

Your Hospitalized Pet We strive to keep the length of hospital stays as brief and as comfortable as possible. During hospital hours, your pet will be under constant supervision; we monitor his/her condition and vital functions and assure your pet has clean bedding, food, water, and caring attention.

Our caregivers are available to answer any questions or concerns and will call to inform you of your pet's progress.

Boarding: We know you want to leave your cat with someone you trust when you go away. Our feline guests are pampered in spacious and clean kitty condos, most with window views. Each cat is regularly monitored to ensure his or her health, safety, and happiness.

Payment and Fees: Every effort is made to ensure that all fees are fair and reasonable. You are encouraged to discuss charges before services are rendered.

All fees are to be paid at the time service is rendered or when your pet is discharged. Cash, checks, debit, and most major credit cards are accepted.

As a service to our clients, we offer Care-Credit®, a GE Money Company, that gives you convenient interest-free or low monthly payment options.

Emergency Services: Please call us at once if there is an emergency. During hospital hours, seriously ill animals are given priority attention over routine appointments. A doctor is available by phone after hours to help you determine whether your pet can be treated at home or should be taken to a local pet emergency hospital.

- focus on prevention, management, and treatment of pain.

Thank you for choosing us for your animal's medical needs. We value your trust.

Your pet's caregivers

Our professional staff is compassionate, knowledgeable, and utilizes the latest technological advances to provide exceptional medical care. We participate in continuing education and regular staff training as a means to guarantee the best care possible for our patients and keep them aware of the rapid advances in veterinary medicine.

Dr. Hornstein is Past-President of the NJ Veterinary Medical Association (NJVMA), having served during 2008-2009. He has been honored as Veterinarian of the Year. As contributing author to the NJVMA Pain Management and Animal Welfare Guidelines, his interests include pain management and anesthesia.

Exotic Species: In addition to cats and dogs, we treat birds, ferrets, rabbits, rodents, and other exotic pets. We can advise you about maintaining a proper environment and diet for your exotic animal.

Pain Management: We take pain relief very seriously and employ preventive pain management strategies using local anesthetics, anti-inflammatory drugs, and other analgesic medications for all surgical procedures, wounds, dental extractions, arthritic-related problems, and pain inducing illnesses.

Laboratory: If your pet is sick or injured, and immediate results are needed, we have an in-house laboratory that can give us organ function results within minutes. In addition, we utilize the services of a national reference lab that picks up specimens twice daily and can give us answers on some lab tests the same day!

Surgery: We perform a variety of general soft tissue surgery. To ensure safety, all surgical patients are watched with state-of-the art monitoring and vital support equipment. We also use the services of mobile surgical specialists who can perform non-routine and orthopedic surgeries at our hospital.

Laser therapy: We offer low level laser therapy. This non-invasive tool helps reduce pain and inflammation and increases the speed of healing from wounds and surgery.

Pharmacy: We offer a complete inventory of pharmaceuticals, neutraceuticals, shampoos, heartworm preventives, and parasite medications to meet your pet's needs.

Digital Radiology: On-site digital x-ray equipment provides high-quality radiographs to aid in the diagnosis of many disorders. Free copies are provided in all cases. We can have a board certified radiologist review your pet's images and have results of this consult within hours or sooner!

Ultrasound: We perform abdominal or chest ultrasounds at our office in order to rapidly diagnose and help treat many conditions. The scan can be performed in our office by boarded specialists or the images can be sent to them for second opinions.

Nutrition: We stock both regular and prescription diets.

On-line pharmacy: You can order many prescription foods and medications for home delivery through our hospital website.

Individualized Health Care We custom design a preventive health care plan and vaccination schedule to meet the individual needs of your pet.

Progressive Dental Care: Periodontal disease is the number one health problem in cats and dogs over three years old. Dental disease puts stress on your pet's body and can lead to serious liver, kidney, and heart disease. We provide an extensive dental care program and use the safest anesthesia available along with advanced monitoring, dental x-rays, fluoride treatment, ultrasonic scaling and polishing. Our preventive dental services include teeth cleaning, polishing, extractions, dental x-rays, and oral surgery. We have special training in dental procedures to ensure that your pet receives the best possible care.

Preventive dental care may add years to your pets' lives while improving their quality of life.

Addressing the Needs of Older Pets: Dogs and cats over seven years old are considered seniors and need special attention. To keep pets feeling their best, and with you as long as possible, semi-annual checkups are recommended. Older pets are at higher risk for cancer, diabetes, kidney disease, and other serious medical conditions. Often these conditions come on gradually, and owners may not detect the discomfort they may cause.
